Natale Monroe, Founder & Executive Director, Embrace & Empower, Inc.

The Nonprofit Center of the Berkshires has been a steady, genuine force for good. As the founder of Embrace & Empower, Inc., I've witnessed firsthand how NPC uplifts small and emerging organizations with real tools—not just talk. Their programs, resources, and networking opportunities have helped me navigate the complexities of starting and sustaining a mission-driven nonprofit focused on health equity and survivor support. What sets NPC apart is their heart. They meet you where you are and create a true sense of community among nonprofits. Their team's commitment to collaboration and authenticity continues to inspire my work and remind me that we grow stronger together.

"Nonprofit Center of The Berkshires is pound-for-pound the most impactful and meaningful to advancing our mission. From their Resource and Volunteer Fairs to their training opportunities, NPC of The Berkshires has helped our staff, board members and community strength and grow tremendously. I cannot say enough positive things about the NPC team, and look forward to many fantastic years of continued partnership!"

"Without fail, the people at NPC Berkshires always make themselves available when I have a question or want their perspective, which has been often. Most importantly, they genuinely want to help individuals and organizations throughout the county address our most pressing needs, and everything they do supports that goal."

Hannah van Sickle/Writer

"Time and again, when I call on the NPC Berkshires for help making connections—with nonprofit leaders, organizations seeking mission-driven storytelling support, and funding opportunities—I am met with an abundance of prompt, professional, and useful information that benefits my work in the community."

Berkshire Nursing Families

The Nonprofit Center of the Berkshires has shown up for Berkshire Nursing Families in ways that are both practical and meaningful. Whether it's making introductions, sharing funding opportunities, or creating spaces like the Meeting the Donors/Resource fair event where real partnership and learning can happen, NPC consistently gives us support we can act on. Liana's depth of knowledge and relationships, paired with McCaela's energy and thoughtfulness, has been instrumental in helping us grow our impact for families in the Berkshires.

NPC has been a great resource for information and connection to experts who value what non-profits do for their communities. NPC leadership truly cares about the success of non-profits; for new leaders that is very important. I have benefited and grown as a leader because of getting connected. Highly recommend!

As a Solar Program Manager, I regularly share new solar opportunities for nonprofits, and NPC is so kind and proactive about passing them along. Their support helps more organizations learn about funding and programs that can make a real difference — I really appreciate their collaboration and enthusiasm!

The NPC is an incredible resource for nonprofits in this county (and I suspect that neighbors peek, too). They provide lists and lists of service providers, useful websites, press contact details, events, and so much more. I strongly recommend that any nonprofit in Berkshire Co. get connected to NPC. I love how they bring community together at interesting events.

Stephanie Bergman/Berkshire Grown

NPC plays a vital role in facilitating connections between nonprofits as well as and between organizations and funders. Their workshops and events strengthen nonprofits, helping us grow, learn, and better serve our communities. I am so grateful for their support and the role they play in building a stronger nonprofit sector across the Berkshires.
